

STALLED — A picture taken Sunday night that could have been repeated a thousand times or more. In this specific area hundreds of cars were stalled in the deep drifts piled by the high winds that accompanied the snow storm of last week-end. Trying to get them free was an endless task because most of them could proceed only a short distance before they became stalled again. In the wider area the number of stranded cars ran up into the thousands. No identification was made of the people here as the photographer had his hands too full to add pen or pencil to the load and the persons in the picture were saving their breath for pushing.

Frankfort, Mokena Tax Rates Show Drop, Up In New Lenox

The tax rate for the village of Mokena and Frankfort for 1960 show a drop from the 1959 rates, according to figures issued at the office of County Clerk Joseph Hartley, but in New Lenox, due primarily to a rise in the village tax because of general obligation bonds to meet part of the cost of the new sewer system, the rate is up.

The total rate per $100 of equalized assessed valuation for persons living inside the corporate limits of Frankfort is $3.500 compared to $3.661 for 1959, a decrease of 4.66%. The total rate for property owners living within the corporate boundaries of Mokena for 1960 is $3.510 as compared to $3.701 for 1959, a decrease of 5.44%.

The total tax rate per $100 of equalized assessed valuation for property owners living within the village limits of New Lenox for 1960 is $3.942 as compared to $3.338 for 1959, an increase of 18.09%.

In Green Garden township the total tax rate for 1960 is figured according to whether the property owner resides in the Manhattan fire district, the Frankfort fire district or outside of both fire districts. Since Green Garden is part of the Peotone Community Unit school district No. 207-U there is but one school tax in the township, $2.107.

Those living in the Manhattan fire district, which has a rate of .080, will pay a rate of $2.756. Those residing in the Frankfort fire district where the rate is .055, will have a total rate of $2.731. Those living outside both fire districts will pay a rate of $2.676. Thus is Green Garden .569 represents county, .182; forest preserve, .005; town, .115; poor relief, .020; road and bridge, .080; special road tax, .167.

There was no Frankfort fire district tax last year. The rate for 1959 in that portion which includes the Manhattan fire district was $2.895 or .139 cents higher than the rate this year. The 1959 rate for the area outside the fire district was $2.811 which was .135 higher than for 1960.

The 207-U tax rate in 1959 was $2.185.

The rates for those residing outside the corporate limits of the villages will vary according to the grade school district. There is a portion of New Lenox township, in the Cherry Hill area, that lies within the Joliet township high school district that will be affected by that fact.

The total rate for 1960 is used in arriving at the tax bills which must be paid this year. The rates are figured in the county clerk's office from the levies made by the various taxing bodies. For example, a taxing body may decide that it needs $50,000 to meet its expenses and obligations and it files a levy for that amount. The county clerk's office then figures out what rate is necessary with which to multiply the equalized assessed valuation to produce the $50,000. Rates, however, cannot exceed the limits set by law so figuring them can be a complicated business and requires special knowledge. The county clerk's only part in the tax structure is a mathematical one; he has nothing to do with determining how much money is required by a taxing body to carry on its operations.

Broken down for the area the rates will be found on page

Sangmeister By 3, Swanberg, Whitaker Victors

George Sangmeister, Mayor of Frankfort since 1935, was re-elected in Tuesday's election by nosing out his opponent, Glenn Warning, by two votes, 255 to 253. Warning is just completing a term as trustee.

In Mokena Charles J. Swanberg, implement dealer and prominent in public and civic affairs, and president of the Mokena park district board, won the mayoralty contest by defeating the incumbent, James Marti, 397 to 226.

At New Lenox Donald H. Anderson, Robert D. Randolph and Eugene Hunt were elected village trustees and Ronald Whitaker, police magistrate.

Alvin Sorensen, veteran village clerk of Mokena, was re-elected, defeating Grace E. Alexander, 379 to 242.

Sorensen was the only candidate on the Independent No. 1 ticket to survive.

The Independent No. 2 ticket, headed by Swanberg, won the four places open on the village board and James Surovick was elected police magistrate.

In Frankfort Walter Pfaff was unopposed for village clerk. He ran on the Independent No. 1 ticket, headed by Sangmeister.

The candidates for village trustees on this ticket also won but Police Magistrate Herbert Folkers failed at re-election by 10 votes, according to the unofficial returns. The magistrate's post was won by Robert Burns, who tallied 259 votes to Folkers 249.

Elected trustees at Frankfort were Milton Subbert, incumbent, Wilbert Klier and Daniel Hecht, for four year terms. Elected for a two year term to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Amos (Ted) Massey, was Wayne DePorto, a former member of the village board.

Elected to four year terms on the village board at Mokena were Will T. Tuttle, electrical contractor and appliance dealer; Clarence Zugenbuehler, editor for a farm publication, and Lawrence A. Istel, an official of an industrial firm. The two year term was won by Frederick G. Rauch, Jr.

Raymond P. Bisgrove, carpenter contractor, and Lloyd Warning, independent candidate, were elected for four year terms as trustees, and James A. Raffau, independent candidate for police magistrate were outdistanced. There were four write-ins for mayor in Mokena, each receiving one vote, Edward Hentsch, Sam Centers, Gary Chase, and Maurice Angland.

Voting was heavy in both Mokena and Frankfort. There were 633 ballots counted in Mokena and 550 in Frankfort. There were 40 spoiled ballots reported at Frankfort.

The unofficial returns were as follows:

NEW LENOX
Ronald Whitaker, insurance and real estate dealer, a director of the New Lenox township library and president of the New Lenox Association of Commerce, was elected police magistrate Tuesday in a four-way fight.

Election of Whitaker saw the defeat of Otto G. Bornet, incumbent, as well as James B. Sherwood, former justice of the peace, and Gerald D. Shreffler, service station operator.

Elected to the board of trustees for full four year terms were, Donald H. Anderson, who ran for mayor two years ago; Robert D. Randolph and Eugene W. Hunt, who lost out in a previous attempt.

A total of 750 votes were cast in Tuesday's election, a large number political observers say, in view of the fact that it was an "off-year" election in that the office of mayor and clerk were not to be filled.

While considerable interest was manifest in the trustee race, despite the fact that no incumbents were entered, it was believed that the police magistrate contest drew a larger share of attention.

Some observers believed Whitaker and Shreffler would take votes away from each other. As it turned out Whitaker apparently took votes from all of his adversaries as he won with plenty to spare.

The vote for magistrate:

Whitaker	379
Bornet	181
Shreffler	111
Sherwood	71

This count, which is unofficial and subject to canvass, shows Whitaker to have a majority of 16 over his opponents.

The vote for trustee:

Donald Anderson	445
Robert Randolph	390
Eugene Hunt	351
Neatus Wilson	315
W. R. Tackrey	259
Dr. A. D. Miller	236
F. W. Sunday	84

The office of police magistrate carries a salary of $150 a month, a figure set at the last regular meeting of the village board.

Big Snow Blocks Highways, Leaves Hundreds Stranded

Snowplows, sunshine and rising temperatures Monday and Tuesday restored traffic to normal in the northern counties of Illinois after a driving snow storm, lashed by winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour that piled up drifts to a depth of 10 feet in some spots, had swept the region Saturday night and Sunday.

Hundreds of cars and their occupants were stranded in the area and rescue crews toiled thruout Sunday night to get the victims to shelter. Schools did not open Monday.

Village halls, fire stations, schools and private homes were opened to the storm victims. Some were persons who were traveling considerable distances but there were quite a number of people who resided in Chicago or neighboring suburbs who were unable to make the few miles that separated them from their homes.

Some 80 persons were given shelter in the village hall and fire house at Orland Park. A similar number were cared for at New Lenox; 44 at Mokena. Practically every town in the area gave shelter to those caught in the storm. At Tinley Park cots were set up in Central school to provide sleeping accommodations and many persons also opened their homes to snowbound travelers.

It is difficult to arrive at the total snowfall. In some localities the estimate was placed at seven inches; in others it was less. But it really made little difference. Winds from the west and northwest kept the snow moving, piling it in drifts and making visibility almost zero at intervals.

The snow began around 7 o'clock Saturday night and while the fall was heavy it melted as it struck the ground. But by 11 o'clock lawns and fields were covered. There was slush on streets and highways but it was not until after midnight that such surfaces were also blanketed.

The snow continued thruout the night and all day Sunday and late Sunday night. Drifts began forming Sunday afternoon and by night fall state police began reporting highways closed.

County and township road crews worked all Sunday and thru the night to keep roads open but state highway units, manned mostly by men new to the job, were late in getting into action, it was reported, and as a result major highways became blocked. It was a wet snow that packed and when allowed to pile was difficult to move.

Trucks, cars and buses became stalled and many of the occupants were picked up and taken to shelter, abandoning the vehicles.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rider, and their two sons, Robert 4, Jeff, 6, of Jacksonville, Ill., left Hammond, Ind. at 3 p.m. Sunday. They were in their own car but had been with two busses carrying the McMurry college choir on a tour. Mr. Rider, is public relations director for the school. What became of the bus loads of singers Mr. Rider didn't know. His car became stalled on U. S. 30 in the late afternoon and at 2:30 Monday morning the Rider family was brought to the fire station at Mokena where they were provided with a place to sleep.

Also brought to the fire house was Miss Ruth Henry, an office supervisor for Prudential Ins. at Aurora. She had been visiting her family at South Bend and was on her way back to Aurora when her car became stalled on Rt. 30 at 8:30 p.m. Sunday. She was brought to Mokena at midnight.

Six Mokena families opened their homes to the storm weary travelers. The Carroll Roberts, Mr. Roberts is chief of the Mokena volunteer fire department. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Muehler, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hentsch, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zink, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kozumplik and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cupp provided bed and breakfast for 28 men, women and children. Fireman roused Roy Richardson store owner, to supply food for these spending the night at the fire house.

The Edward Larsons, Jr., and three children one of them a nine-month old boy, of Park Forest, stayed at the Hentsch home. They were returning from Kansas City but couldn't get much closer than Wolf road.

The first of the stormbound were brought to the fire house at 5:30 Sunday afternoon. There were four in this group, Wayne Penick, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Risner, of McHenry, and Mrs. Bonnie Wade, of Fairmont, Ill. They were enroute McHenry. Penick operates a bakery truck so some of his customers were without breakfast. There were nine cots at the fire house and 17 lodgers but some of the marooned organized pinocle games and so spent the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fallin, of Whiting, Ind., were enroute from St. Louis following a visit with relatives. Fallin leaves for the army this Saturday and hopes he isn't drawn for Operation Arctic.

Members of the Mokena fire department, some from the CD unit spent the night in searching for stranded motorists.

At Orland Park the volunteer firemen engaged in rescue work and served coffee to the rescued. The police department at Orland wore out two sets of tire chains on the squad car in its rescue efforts.

Robert Miller, Mercury dealer and Orland building inspector, joined the rescue work with a 4-wheel drive truck and brought in a number of stranded motorists.

It was one of the worst April snowstorms that ever struck the area, according to old timers.

Carl Sandburg and Lincoln-Way high schools and practically all grade schools, including those in villages, in the area were closed Monday. Roads were impassable and pupils would have been unable to attend classes.

The storm also made thousands of workers tardy Monday morning, especially those who started early and found roads still blocked. Sun and plows had roads clear by afternoon.

TRUCK DAMAGED
Richard Weems, 227 Ash St., New Lenox, complained to Joliet city police, Friday night that the truck he was driving was struck and damaged by a hit and run driver. Weems said he had the truck, owned by the Lotz Sign Co., parked in the 400 block of North Collins St., when the accident occurred.

The Safety committee of the Civic Association has been successful in obtaining six school caution signs as a donation from the Joliet branch of the Chicago Motor club. These signs will be installed soon for the protection of the children.

There has been trouble in Arbury Hills with dogs running loose. It is generally agreed that no matter how careful one may be a dog can get loose accidentally; however, there are those dogs who continuously are loose. Dog owners are supposed to keep their pets on a leash or in their own yard.

With the coming of milder weather and the increase in population, there will be greater danger from automobiles for the younger children in particular, it was pointed out, unless all drivers use caution.

There will be a speaker from the Lincoln-Way High School at the next meeting of the Arbury Hills Civic Association. At this meeting there will also be a discussion and, if possible, voting on amendments to the by-laws.

To be eligible to vote on any matters pertaining to the Association, it is necessary to be a member in good standing for a period of thirty days prior to the voting. Payment of membership dues and a membership card may be obtained, either at the regular monthly meetings, or from Mrs. Charles Fink of 9527 West Rosewood Lane. The present total membership is sixty-two paid members, which means 124 people, since membership dues include both husband and wife.

The "Hi Neighbor" welcome committee now has the services of twelve local merchants, and more are sought.

The petition for door-to-door mail service for Arbury Hills mentioned in this column last week, is still being circulated. One may sign the petition at the next meeting, Tuesday, May 2 at the school.

A slate of officers which was presented by Mrs. Vernon Crowder of the Nominating Committee was unanimously elected at the Summit Hill Parent Teacher Group meeting last Thursday, April 13. "The Great Merchants"

We Americans take the highest standards of retail service for granted — standards that would seem almost unbelievable to the peoples of much of the rest of the world. Few of us, probably, ever give any particular thought to what makes such excellence possible.

A short time ago Harper & Brothers published an important book by Tom Mahoney called "The Great Merchants." It tells the stories of 20 famous retail operations and the people who made them great. There are wide differences between the 20. Some are national chains, some are individual one-unit operations. Some are very big in point of sales, doing a volume of as much as four billion a year; others are relatively small, doing as little as one million. Some deal primarily in staples, others in luxuries.

But, as Mr. Mahoney observes, they all have many qualities in common. They have definite personalities of their own. They have, generally, been responsible for successful innovations in the arts of retailing. They have made important contributions to the communities they serve. And all of them have shown a profound ability to adapt themselves to the enormous changes that have taken place in modern times, and to survive everything from wars to panics.

This review of merchandising shows we don't get top-quality retail service by accident, or good luck. We get it because people have thought and labored and pioneered, within the framework of a free competitive system in which the man who does the best job of pleasing the public earns and gets the business. And this does not apply merely to 20, or 200 or any other group of stores. We see it in operation everywhere in this country — and all of us share in the rich benefits.

Stop Downgrading Our Schools

Supporters of federal intervention in public school education are downgrading the achievements of American teachers, school boards, and communities in building the finest education system the world has ever known.

That is the view of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. It supports it by pointing out that there are more classrooms, more teachers, a lower pupil-teacher ratio, lower pupil-classroom ratio, and a higher level of education in this country than ever before in history.

Statistically, the story goes like this: In the last 10 years the number of public school pupils increased 48 per cent, while the number of classrooms jumped 60 per cent and the number of teachers 51 per cent. Teacher's salaries rose 72 per cent, to an average of $5,389 a year. Money spent per pupil boomed from $224 a year to $390.

On top of that, American communities approved the highest volume of school bond issues in history during 1960.

All this has been done without federal intervention, federal dictation — or the federal control that would inevitable follow federal subsidy of local schools.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

I was running an explorative finger nail along the cellophane wrapping of a box of cigars looking for a possible weak point when the office door opened and Jefferson Throttlebottom, boubon fancier, entered.

"Permit me, friend," he said, deftly possessing himself of the box of cigars. He whipped out a pocket knife, made an incision in the cellophane, ripped it off, pried up the lid and quickly transferred a handful of cigars to his coat and vest.

Before I could voice a protest he had held up hand:

"Please," he said, "don't thank me. I always have pleasure in helping a friend."

Then he seated himself, stretched out his legs, lit a cigar, and sighed contentedly as he relaxed.

"Did you see that piece in the papers about jet age tensions?" Jeff asked.

"You mean the one about that London doctor who claims that the only way to withstand the stress and strain of modern times is thru drink or tranquilizers and kindred pills?"

"That's the one," Jeff agreed, "and a prescription that many will be glad to take. Personally, I don't subscribe to it. I have not had any experience with these tranquilizing pills but I will admit to some experience with drink. When I drink it is because I want to and because I enjoy it, not because I am sad, or because of trouble or I am under tension."

"When a person starts hunting for an excuse to take a drink, he'd better watch it if he would escape star billing in the role once described as 'The Confirmed Drunkard.'"

"And anyone who mixes liquor with some of these tranquilizing agents probably would be able to out-jet any jet now on the market."

"I understand," Jeff went on, "there are more than a hundred different tranquilizers on the market and that researching chemists are working like mad to produce new ones."

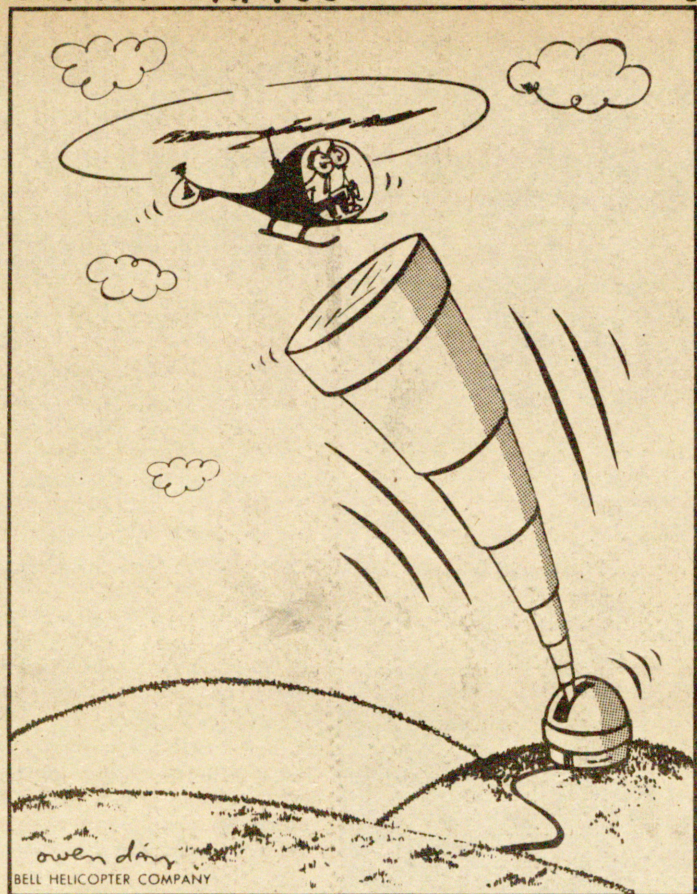

"These are dispensable only by prescription and I understand there is quite a demand for them."

"Odd, isn't it," he went on, "I recall back in prohibition when there was a brisk run on prescriptions to get a pint of drug store whiskey, while tranquilizers or what served for them at the time went begging. There was plenty of moonshine whiskey to be had for which no prescriptions were needed and some of it was pretty bad. You know, the kind they served with a whiskbroom instead of a chaser. A fellow tossed the drink down. Then the drink knocked the man down and when he got up he used the whiskbroom to brush off the dust."

"I suppose you would have called that stuff a paralyzer rather than a tranquilizer."

"Someone was telling me," Jeff went on, "that some of these tranquilizers are supposed to take the place of a brain operation that was used some years ago to relieve people of the jitters — I suppose in this space age one would call them the jitters — and leave them with a don't-give-a —hang-come-what-may feeling and quite satisfied with life and ready to tip-toe thru the tulips barefoot.

"I understand that punch-drunk fighters are in the same state. If that is the case I must admit that taking pills would be easier and less hazardous than to submit to brain surgery or serve as a punching bag in the ring."

"The peace pills are more or less a new thing, which makes me wonder how the early settlers of this country were able to get along. It is true that the atom was still whole then and they were not threatened with A-bombs and H-bombs or little men from other planets but they did lead hard, dangerous lives and when one ventured afield or even stuck his head out the door in the morning he ran a real risk of catching a bullet or an arrow. And on top of everything else there was always starvation or exposure to fear."

"They had schnapps, of course, but no pills. One really doesn't know what a tough time the early settlers had until he realizes they were without tranquilizers."

"I understand," Jeff rambled on, "that some of the researchers have been looking into the possibilities of one of the drugs used by the Indians. It comes from a cactus, whether the juice, pulp, or outer skin I don't know. The Indians used it at some of their ceremonies."

"I am told that as yet the researchers have been unable to make any use of this for the general market. It is a tranquilizer of sorts but it has one drawback — it gives one visions. The general public, as I understand it, is not yet ready for a pill with built-in movies . . . and in technicolor yet."

"Well, so long," and Jeff stood up and started for the door. "This talking is thirsty work and its me for the corner dispensary for a horn of bourbon. Want to come along?"

Your correspondent shook his head. . . he felt fine, or he would after he went into the back office and had a cup of coffee, a couple of aspirins and a slug of pepto-bismuth.

The feed grain program for 1961 is a topic of high interest among farmers these days. The County ASC committee is busily engaged in preparing payment rates for individual farms. The final decision, participation versus non-participation, will be up to the individual farmer.

Probably the best way to make this decision is to take pencil in hand and figure out the costs and returns for participating in the program, and compare the two. A simple budgeting form has been developed at the College of Agriculture and is available in my office. It is merely a format for listing acres, production costs, and expected returns. I would be happy to assist anyone interested in determining the dollars and cents benefits, or lack of benefit, for their individual operation for participation in the program. The details of the program were explained to more than 80 farmers at a meeting held last week. Joe Murphy, ASC office manager, Orland Park, Carl Bornet, Tinley Park, chairman of the ASC committee, and Clarence Fulton, Tinley Park, committee member, explained the program to the farmers.

The 4-H Federation was privileged to hear about the operation of the Federal Food and Drug Administration. Mr. Porter of the FDA Chicago office, spoke and showed slides on the methods followed by the Food and Drug Administration to protect the interests of the consumer.

The Federation also made plans for the Share-the-Fun Festival to be held May 17, at the Tinley Park Central School. Committees were named to assist in the smooth operation of the program. They are as follows: Stage director - Henry Veldhuizen; stage-crew - Roy Bettenhausen, Jack Uthe, Rodney Klieriem, Warren Uthe; PA system and lights - Leslie Yunker, Jean Siemens; curtains - Melvin Yunker and Joan Uthe. Adult advisers: Mrs. Marvin Cooper, Orland Park; Mrs. LeRoy Bauman, Tinley Park; Mrs. Phillip Uthe, Markham.

Business & Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

It was not so long ago that certain of our government leaders were talking of the likely length of the recession and the new Secretary of Labor was calling the situation a full fledged recession which might become very severe.

Standard & Poor's averages of stock prices moved to an all time high. Investment analysts had been predicting an obvious upturn in business for January. The severe winter in many parts of the country reduced considerable construction activity and retail sales were hit by the weather conditions. Reduced sales of automobiles during January were also attributed to severe weather conditions.

Fortune Magazine notes that, "Actually while unemployment rose from 4,500,000 in December to 5,400,000 in January, the percentage of unemployed to the labor force, seasonally adjusted by the BLS, actually fell in these months from 6.8 percent to 6.6 percent". The total labor force has shown a greater than normal increase. Figures on total employment were higher in January than a year ago.

Government spending projects usually receive more enthusiastic support from congress than suggestions for discontinuance of projects in the interest of economy. It is thought to be better vote-getting technique, to have new and better projects going in various parts of the country. Unfortunately many of these projects will experience a lag between the time of appropriation and actual construction.

Defense spending as well as some other government projects, were being stepped up prior to the election and are now being pushed further. Recent events on the international scene, make rather certain that the administration will not have much trouble getting added funds for defense items and those activities associated with defense.

Congress will be reluctant to increase taxes to pay for the various spending plans and this, of course, will create deficits in the budget. It is likely those projects which can be effected the soonest, will receive more Congressional support and those long range projects such as aid to education and the aged, will be somewhat slower in being enacted since specific tax methods will have to be found and levied, to effectuate these plans.

For some time analysts have predicted that the natural forces in our economy, were correcting and consolidating the industrial pattern as to inventories, etc., and that business was due to turn around early this year. They expressed idea that the government action to aid might very well become effective at the same time as natural forces in the economy and that the result might be considerable business activity. They have expressed a hope that the over all activity will not be such as to bring harm eventually. We are fortunate in having the Federal Reserve controls, but interest rates probably will bring considerable new construction and curbing this, might be politically unpopular.

Announcements have been recently made that steel mills are opening new furnaces and auto sales are expected to have decided upturn. Home appliances are also showing promise.

The Upper Room

READ ISAIAH 55: 6-13; PSALM 24

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. (Psalm 24: 3,4)

We soon become like our daily companions. Since our thoughts are our closest companions, the only way to live a clean life is to cultivate purity of mind and heart. As a man "thinketh in his heart so is he." We read in Proverbs, "The thought of foolishness is sin." Isaiah holds out the hope to us that God will forgive the man who forsakes his sinful way and his unrighteous thoughts.

An air conditioner can change the air in a room by drawing out stale air and bringing in fresh, pure air. Thus the atmosphere of the room is changed.

Changing impure thoughts for pure thoughts can alter life. We can fill our minds with the teachings of Christ. Before we know it, our lives will be free from anxiety and worry. We

There's no pat answer to whether a spray or a dust, is better for controlling diseases and insects in home gardens and orchards. Here are some guides from the University of Illinois Department of Plant Pathology:

FOR FLOWERS: Dusts are better than sprays. They are easier to apply and stick better when the foliage is wet. Special equipment isn't needed either. U. of I. specialists recommend all-purpose dusts for home use. These mixes contain both insecticides and fungicides and control practically all common insects and diseases. For best results, be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions.

FOR VEGETABLES: Either sprays or dusts are satisfactory, but complete coverage is the important thing. Again, dusts, if used correctly, control both insects and diseases, but home-mixed sprays generally give better disease control. Some basic ingredients for home-mixed sprays are malathion as the insecticide, and maneb, zineb or captan as the fungicide. Specific problems require a more specific mix. FOR FRUITS: Both dusts and sprays may be used. However, sprays usually give more effective coverage and consequently better control on such fruits as apples and strawberries. Fruit specialists say that home mixes are often better than all-purpose sprays. The basic materials needed for a home mix are lead arsenate, DDT and malathion as the insecticides, and captan, zineb and wettable sulfur as the fungicides.

The best times to apply dusts are in the early morning or late evening, when the leaves are damp and the air is still. Sprays however, can be applied any time when the air is fairly calm.

You can get a complete spray schedule for flowers, fruits and vegetables from your Cook county farm adviser's office, Cooperative Extension Service, 6657 South St., Tinley Park.

Washington News Letter

By CONGRESSMAN N. M. MASON

President Kennedy has recommended that congress drop the year to year approach to our foreign aid problem and adopt a five or ten year approach. His recommendation would extend the New Frontier's reckless spending program to the four corners of the world. If the President has his way, the American taxpayer will be committed forever to subsidize the economic growth of every nation on earth. We have already spent some $80 billion on foreign aid since the end of World War II.

Congress has been voting for foreign aid each year with growing reluctance and with ever-increasing opposition. If the President's proposal is approved, this congress would be binding future congresses to continue to dole out foreign aid. Would this be fair to the members of future Congresses?

Congress should never bind itself to spend future taxpayers' dollars overseas on a long-term basis. Congress should preserve its right to check and re-check all foreign aid expenditures every year. No "blank checks" for five or ten years' foreign aid program should receive the approval of Congress.

According to budget figures our foreign aid appropriations today amount to some $4 billion per year. However, if the so-called "hidden" foreign aid expenditures — such as indirect military assistance, food surplus distribution, special area projects, special government loans, etc. — are taken into consideration, our foreign aid burden per year would amount to nearly double the $4 billion direct load.

The American taxpayer clearly cannot go on carrying this enormous financial burden on his shoulders year after year.

President Kennedy's Right-About-Face: In the President's special message to congress on the defense budget, submitted on March 28, 1961, he said, "Our military position is strong."

During the campaign last fall Senator Kennedy continually stated that our military position in the world was weak, that we had become a second-rate world power, that Russia was far ahead of us in missile strength, etc.

What has brought about the change in our military position in the world since last fall? Nothing, absolutely nothing, has been done during the three months of the Kennedy Administration to change our military standing in the world. No new defense appropriations have been made. No new military contracts have been let. No new defense legislation has been passed by congress to strengthen our military position in the world. So why the right-about-face of the President as compared to last fall? Our position today is exactly the same as it was then.

If "our military position is strong today", it must have been strong last fall. The only change that has taken place is that Candidate Kennedy has become know the peace which comes from inner confidence. We shall have the power that comes to those who are at peace with God, with man, and with themselves.

PRAYER: Our Father, we pray that Thou wilt cleanse our thoughts of doubts, worries, and fears. Fill our minds with thoughts of Thee, that we may be pure in heart, clean in mind, and Christlike in our living. In Jesus' name, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Clean thoughts produce clean lives.
Ada B. Hoelscher (New Mexico)

President Kennedy.

Brighter News Days Ahead: Blue patches are beginning to show in the business sky. The mists of doubt and fear are being blown away by freshening economic breezes. Even the preachers of "gloom and doom" are now grudgingly admitting that maybe our American economy is not in such bad shape after all.

Recently Dr. Heller, the President's top economic advisor, said there was little chance of a temporary tax cut to boost our economy "because signs of business improvement are multiplying."

The steel industry has passed its low point and has started an upward trend. The auto industry has begun to accelerate production. Some $34 billion in outlays for new plant and equipment is expected to be spent this year. Retail sales are beginning to improve. Factory inventories are now at low ebb and are certain to be replenished during the second and third quarters of this year. Exports are picking up and imports are being reduced.

So the recession is ending, business is picking up, idlemen are going back to work, and brighter days are ahead.

Water Key To Prosperity States Conservationist

Loren Sass, president of Will County Soil Conservation district, commented this week on President Kennedy's references to conservation in his agricultural message.

Sass drew attention to the fact that people on the federal government level recognize the problems facing the country in connection with soil and water conservation and apparently wish to help.

Sass said the President Kennedy's agricultural message to congress specifically referred to the size of the soil and water conservation job yet to be done in soil conservation districts and in small watersheds.

The following are direct quotations from the president's agricultural message:

"We have so taken soil conservation for granted in this generation that we forget it is a task which is barely under way. By June 30, 1960, the Soil Conservation Service had helped 1,301,450 farmers and ranchers to complete basic conservation plans and an additional 500,000 were being assisted. But this represents only twenty-seven percent of all farms and ranches in soil conservation districts. Nearly three-fourths of this important job remains to be done.

"I am requesting the Congress to provide the funds necessary to accelerate this program for permanent soil conservation practices and to increase our efforts for small watersheds as well. These smaller projects, now being planned and developed may well hold the key to our future water and soil requirements at a time of rapidly growing population."

A few days ago, in Washington, Senator J. W. Fulbright took the floor and spoke in behalf of methods to speed up the small watershed program. Following are excerpts from his statement:

"Although the watershed program has been in operation only a few years, its value to the over-all conservation program is well established. This is a program which should be expedited. A speed up in this program would provide immediate and permanent benefits to our economy."

Water has become the limiting factor of industrial growth in communities throughout the nation," Mr. Sass pointed out adding, that it is common knowledge that industry will not locate in any area which does not offer and adequate supply of pure water, safety from floods, and recreational facilities for employees. Good land use and use of needed conservation practices on the farm will aid in solving some of these problems."

CHIEF PSYCHOLOGISTS of 17 state institutions met at the Tinley Park State hospital for three days last week and discussed the status of the psychology programs in various institutions and future growth of psychology services. This group

School Administrators To Meet

A spring conference for elementary and high school administrative and supervisory staffs from seven counties will be held at Lincoln-Way high school on Monday April 24, beginning at 2:30 p.m. The meeting is scheduled to end by 8:30 p.m.

Educators, including the county and district superintendents of schools from Cook, Du Page, Grundy, Kankakee, Kendall, LaSalle, and Will counties are to attend.

The meetings also are open to all teachers and school board members from the various counties.

The conference is sponsored jointly by the Illinois Council of Educational Administration, Secondary School Principals, Junior High School Principals, Elementary School Principals, and County Superintendents. They are cooperating with the administrative relations department of the Illinois Education Association.

At the first general session in the early afternoon a presentation of digest of studies and research in school administration is on the program.

Other important discussion on the agenda are 'Education in the Junior High School

Years" from the Conant Study and Recommendations: "Teacher Aides"/ "Vocational and Technical Education in Illinois, "Tomorrow's Challenge".

Dinner will be served in Lincoln-Way cafeteria at 6:00 p.m. The remainder of the evening will be spent in reviewing and assessing the 1961 legislative picture.

Dental Society Stresses Importance On Teeth Care

From a recent report by the Chicago Dental Society it states that it is impossible to overestimate the importance of teaching children the proper methods of caring for their teeth. Teeth are designed to last a lifetime with only reasonable care, and parents are doing their children a disservice when they don't teach them the few simple steps that can be taken:

The three basic precautions to be observed are:

1. Use a toothbrush.
2. Eat a well-balanced diet and refrain from eating sweets, especially between meals.
3. Have your teeth cleaned and checked by your dentist at regular intervals.

The toothbrush is still the most effective home weapon against decay if used properly and at the right time. Teeth should be brushed immediately after eating, whether it is a full meal or a snack. If it is not possible to brush the teeth, the next best thing is to rinse the mouth thoroughly with clear water.

Diet has much to do with the health of the mouth. Basically, foods that are adequate for general health, such as meat, eggs, butter, fruits, vegetables and milk, are also adequate for dental health. An excessive and regular diet of sweets will inevitably lead to dental decay.

Parents can render their children a great service in two ways. First, parents should realize that the so-called baby teeth are vitally important and need the same attention as do permanent teeth.

Secondly, children should be taught that the dentist is their friend. A child's first visit to the dentist should take place as soon as he has all of his primary teeth, when he is two-and-a-half or three years of age.

Children should start brushing their teeth (or parents should do it for them) almost from the time they have teeth for greatest protection against decay.

Near End Of Rehearsals For All-School L-W Play

The all-school play at Lincoln-Way high, "Inherit the Wind," is approaching the end of the rehearsal period and will be ready for presentation on Friday and Saturday night of next week, April 28 and 29. Tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for students.

Every class is represented in the cast, which is a large one. Matthew Harrison Brady, is to be played by James Lakin, of New Lenox, and Bertram Cotes by Michael Tate. These two juniors have three year's experience in debate and speech events.

A junior from Mokena, Dennis Porick, who has appeared with the Lincoln-Way Community Players, takes the part of Henry Drummond. Another junior from Mokena, Susas Jasinski, will be in the role of Rachel Brown.

New Lenox, who has had considerable experience in school dramatics, has a part which was re-written especially for her. She appears as a journalist.

Robert Breidert, Frankfort, a senior appears in the part of the Judge Buddy Erickson, a sophomore from Manhattan, is the jailer and court clerk; Tim Mathews, a junior from New Lenox is cast as the Rev. Jeremiah Brown; Gordon Case, a senior from Manhattan is Elijah, the Prophet; Larry Brolich, a junior from New Lenox appears as a lawyer; Leona Guzik, a senior from Frankfort, is Mrs. Brown, and Tommy Fee, a freshman from Mokena, who recently appeared in the Lincoln-Way Community Players production, "Kiss and Tell," has another part as a juvenile.

New York City's most famous jail is called The Tombs.

Railroad Tax Objections Cut Revenue For Schools

The state department of revenue is now working out a formula by means of which tax refunds will be made to railroads whose general objections have been sustained by the Illinois supreme court.

In Will county the taxes paid under protest by the railroads for 1958 and 1959 are affected by the decision with the total amount involved being $429,742.54.

All taxing bodies traversed by the objecting roads would be affected and since the schools get the major portion of the tax dollar they stand to lose the most.

Not all of the $429,742 would be returned of course, County School Superintendent Verne E. Crackel pointed out. The amount would be determined by formula but if it worked out that 30 or 35% should be returned to the railroads it could be a severe blow to some school districts, authorities agreed.

The railroads are assessed by the state revenue department. The roads contend that they have been assessed 100% on personal and real property while local assessors have assessed at 40 to 60% of the real cash value.

Cases involving this point of discrimination and inequality in making assessments were carried up to the high court from Lee and Sangamon counties and the state's supreme tribunal held for the objectors.

In Will county the objections filed against the 1958 taxes, collected in 1959, amounted to $161,487.78 and the objectors listed were the E.J. & E., the New York Central, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio.

The objections filed against the 1959 taxes collected in 1960 amounted to $268,254.76 with the following railroads as the objectors, Chicago, Milwaukee, & St. Paul, Chicago and Rock

Knights Cop Opener From Evergreen Park

In the season opener played at Lincoln-Way, the Knights baseball team sneaked past the Evergreen Park Mustangs 4-3. It was a cold, wet day, and the game was called after 5 1/2 innings because of rain.

Ron Yunker fanned eleven and walked none, as he went all the way for the victory. Poat absorbed the loss for the Mustangs.

Evergreen Park took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a single by Winkle, a double by Surdyk, and a triple by Wolf. Wolf, was left stranded at third as Herich whiffed.

The Knights came back with a run in the bottom of the second. Walks to Yunker, Turney and Sayers, plus a single by Lichtenwalter led to the tally. The bases were loaded with one out when John Kropp looked at a third strike. Wayne Lauffer killed off the rally with a fielders choice.

Another run in the top of the fourth made it 3-1 in favor of the Mustangs. Then the Knights came through with their game-winning rally.

Ray Turney led off with a walk, and Jerry Sayers reached first on Winkle's bad throw. They remained there as Gene Carlos and Wayne Lauffer went down swinging. With two outs, Jim Beam drew a pass, loading the bases. That brought to bat Skip Kruzich. After hitting several fouls, Skip drilled a long clutch triple down the right field line, bringing home three runs. Skip died at third as Ron Yunker fanned. The Knights now led 4-3.

A light but steady rain was now falling, and the coaches agreed to end the game after the sixth inning. No more runs were scored, as Yunker struck out the side in the Evergreen half of the sixth to end the game.

SCORE BY INNINGS
Knights	0 1 0 3 0 X - 4
Evergreen	2 0 0 1 0 0 - 3
Batteries:	Ron Yunker (W) and Dan Bean (L-W)
	Dave Poat (L) and George Laisch (E,P.)

BY BILL SLUIS

In last Friday's baseball game between the Lincoln-Way Knights and the Carl Sandburg Eagles at CS, Sandburg won a 3-2 victory on Jim Jeffries' seventh inning homer. Jeffries teed off on Ron Yunker's first pitch, drove it some 380 feet to deep left field, and scored standing up.

Sandburg took a 1-0 lead in the third on Kilroy's double and Bob McKim's single. McKim and Jim LaVine were left stranded on base as Yunker fanned Ted LaVine and Duane Erickson.

Randy Cernick put the Eagles out in front 2-0 in the bottom of the fourth by driving across Bill Gorney on a single. Gorney had previously reached second base on an error and a stolen base.

The Knights came back to knot the game in the top of the sixth. Dan Bean singled to right field and raced to third on Kaiser's error. He scored moments later on Skip Kruzich's single. Skip advanced to second on Jim Beam's fielders choice. With Bob Lichtenwalter at the plate the Eagles trapped Kruzich off second base, but an error by Erickson enabled Skip to romp home with the tying run.

The score remained 2-2 until, in the last half of the seventh Jim Jeffries led off with his game-winning blast.

Eagles	0 0 1 1 0 0 1 - 3

SCIENCE STUDENTS at Sandburg high school win prizes with their projects. The top photo (No. 1) deals with a project on "What the Frog's Eye Tells the Frog's Brain." The electronic unit used was designed and built by Steve Albers, a Sandburg senior, but the girl, who provided the medical knowledge, is from the Mother McCalley high school, Carol Beigelbeck. In photo No. 2, Russell LaMantia, a senior, is demonstrating a plasma jet of his creation which operates at high temperatures and is used to determine characteristics of matter. In photo No. 3 is Donald Wilz, a freshman. The light was such when the picture was taken that the camera recorded only lightly the lettering telling what this exhibit was about, namely "The Sea Lamphrey of the Great Lakes." Donald will not be here for the district show April 22, he will be traveling in Europe with his parents. (CSHS Photos)

Apartment Deal Concerns Lincoln-Way School Board

The Lincoln-Way high school board set an unofficial record when the same men were returned to the offices they have held for the past nine years, at the board's meeting Thursday night.

Re-elected as president was Attorney A. H. Krusemark with J. Earl Robinson, secretary, and Lester Case, vice president. The trio was charter members of board since its organization nine years ago.

The board certified the incumbents who were re-elected and canvassed the vote. Krusemark reported on a new proposed 108 unit apartment development project, which will be located on Route 45, just south of the WLS radio station. A representative of the project was scheduled on the agenda, but could not make the meeting.

Krusemark said he learned the developer from Fairbury, Ill., plans 40 acres of apartments, aimed for senior citizen housing. The board desires to learn who the proposed occupants of the project will be from the standpoint of how much of a burden will be placed upon the school with an influx of students. Should the project be exclusive senior citizen housing, there would be no additional student growth at Lincoln-Way from that area.

The board adopted a resolution involving the judges and the polling places for the May 20 election when the school

Mokena Girl Scouts To Present Skit

Girl Scout troop #335 of Mokena will present a skit next Wednesday, April 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Annual Trailways Council meeting to be held in the Wilmington high school. This is the same skit the troop staged at the recent Girl Scout rally.

The skit, presented by the 23 girls in the troop, depicted their nationality and each girl was dressed in a costume and carried a flag of the country bearing their ancestor. At the close of the skit they all sang "Getting to Know You", "Hey, Look me Over" and "We're All Americans". Those taking part in the skit included Nancy Bernardin, Kathleen Biloti, Maureen Carlson, Lynne Davies, Debbie Elias, Marla Fant, Susan Gilles, Linda Gorman, Linda Gottlieb, Marilee Holman, Karen Hoolehan; Also Dawn Kuciver, Roberta Lang, Susan Lindstrom, Mary Ann Munch, Sharon Peterson, Barbara Richardson, Ellen Schwarz, Marlene Stanger, Kathleen Tierney, Dianne Tuttle, Linda Yunker and Sally Zink. The girls are all fifth graders at Willow Crest and St. Mary's schools. The leader of the troop is Mrs. Robert T. Lang and Mrs. Eldon Schwarz is the assistant leader.

At the troop meeting held Tuesday, April 18 eight girls received second class badges which means they have completed eleven activities.

Receiving badges were Nancy Bernardin, Lynne Davies, Debbie Elias, Susan Gilles, Linda Gorman, Roberta Lang, Barbara Richardson and Ellen Schwarz.

Frankfort C. Of C. Sets Fun Fair Date

Frankfort will hold a gigantic fun-day, special-sales-day and just a big, big festival on Aug. 26 according to plans now in the making by the Frankfort Chamber of Commerce.

The group, at their regular meeting Wednesday April 13, tentatively planned a water fight between two visiting fire departments, a baby parade, a pet parade and free sauerkraut and wieners.

When plans are complete the affair should be attractive not only to the people of Frankfort, but to visitors from miles around the village.

An appropriate name for the occasion is being pondered, by a special committee appointed by president Ralph Show, and is expected to be announced within the next few days.

Mokena Church Women Plan Luncheon

The annual spring luncheon of the Woman's Society of the Christian Service of the Mokena Methodist church will be held Thursday, April 27 in Fellowship Hall. Serving of the buffet luncheon will start at 11:30 a.m.

In addition to the luncheon homemade bakery goods will be sold as will rag rugs and other gift items. Individual recipes of dishes served at the luncheon will be on sale for those wishing to add them to their personal file.

Mrs. Berle Needham, general chairman will be assisted by the following women comprising her committee: Mrs. Elias Brown, Mrs. George Boyce and Mrs. George Rumbley.

Something New Added! Official Asks Salary Cut

A new innovation took place at the Mokena grade school board meeting Monday night, where instead of asking for more money, one of the board officers asked for a salary cut.

Lyman Teague, who was re-elected secretary of the board, asked that his salary be cut from $600 a year to $400 since some of his responsibilities have been lifted and placed on the office staff at the school, under a new county bookkeeping system.

League and the treasurer are the only two persons associated with the board who receive a salary.

Robert Geuther was unanimously re-elected president of the school board as the members met to canvass the vote and seat the newly elected members. Stewart acted as president pro-tem in Geuther's absence.

In the election, 80 votes were cast and returned incumbents Durval L. Fant, James W. Stewart and Norval K. Robinson, to the board. They had no opposition. The election was certified by the board.

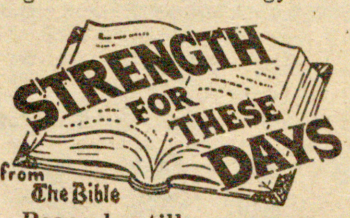

James Surovick came before the board to ask a vote of confidence from its members in a new family physical fitness program to be inaugurated in the near future. Surovick, in conjunction with the park district recreation program for children, explained that he would like to get a physical fitness program started one or two nights a week in the gym at Carpenter Street school.

The board agreed to give the program its support. Surovick will map out a program and attempt to set up a schedule to give to the board at a future meeting.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cappel's report to the board consisted of a discussion on acquiring a ball box, the library list for Willow Crest school and a report on the curtains for the multipurpose room at Willow Crest.

The board approved the payment of bills and salaries.

With a little effort, with practice and patience, we can learn to relax and let go, to still our mind, and overcome every distracting influence. As we persist, our mind will respond with increasing quickness to the command. "Be still."

Lincolnwood Dog Is Prize Winner

MRS. DELORES ANDERSON
Tel. HU 5-3651

Over 2,900 dogs were entered in the International Kennel club dog show held April 8 and 9 at the Amphitheatre in Chicago. Among them was "Beth Len's Mary Martha", a Dalmation, owned by Mrs. Steven Madden of Lincolnwood. She won honors in the American bred class, and won reserve winner at the show.

Miss Donna Fraser, 13 of Parker Rd., won second in the novice childrens handling class with her Collie.

First grade mothers served a hot lunch to the children of the Schmul school on Wednesday.

The Schmul school Community club will meet Friday, April 28 at the school at 8 p.m. The Busy Hour 4-H club will have the program for the evening and will serve refreshments.

Twenty-six members and friends of Brownie Scout troop 307 attended the Hansel and Gretel opera at the Washington school in Joliet on Thursday afternoon. Brownie Scout leaders and mothers of the girls accompanied the group.

Cub Scout Pack 41 of Lincolnwood will sponsor a family roller skating party Monday May 1, at the Lockport Roller rink. Skating will be from 7 to 10 p.m. Tickets will be $1 for adults, 50 cents for children, or $2 per family. The party will be open to the public. Tickets may be purchased from any Cub at the Schmul school, or from Ed Johnson, HU 5-8871, or Ed Woodcock, HU 5-8785.

The British Interplanetary Society reports about 20,000 men and women have volunteered to ride a rocket into space.

School Issue Still Warm At Frankfort

Interest in the new addition to the Frankfort grade school continues to hold the limelight in Frankfort as a Citizens committee organized to push the second referendum, set for approximately 60 days.

The committee announces tentative plans to hold one or more public meetings. A spokesman stated that members would welcome interested persons, whether for or against the school addition.

A quotation from Thomas Macaulay was suggested as a motto for all concerned persons in the school district.

The quote is "Men are never so likely to settle a question rightly as when they discuss it freely."

It was pointed out that where there is a sharp difference of opinion concerning matters, the answer is seldom found at either extreme but somewhere in between.

The spokesman said, "Opinions unsupported by facts cannot stand against authentic information."

A debate was mentioned as a possible means of bringing out information vital to a decision. The committee made it clear that it has no official capacity to decide issues. Its purpose is fact-finding and presenting those facts to the public.

St. Mary's To Serve Spring Dinner Sunday

Mrs. Edward Flynn, publicity chairman of the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Mary's church, Mokena, announces the annual spring roast beef dinner will be served this Sunday, April 23 in the church social center on Wolf Road. Serving of this family style dinner, which will feature homemade pies and cakes, will start at 12 noon.

As an added feature there will be a "country store"

County Clerk Gives Details On Area Tax Rates

The tax rates for the various sections of Frankfort and New Lenox townships compiled in the County Clerk's office are carried here for the benefit of those residents affected.

The rate totals vary according to school districts and what taxing bodies are included therein. The town, county, forest preserve, road and bridge tax rates are constant for each township but the school taxes are different. Also some school districts lie wholly or in part within the boundaries of other taxing bodies, such as park or fire districts.

In the Village of Frankfort, School District 157-C, High School Dist. 210 and the Frankfort Fire Protection district (this will be the first year for fire district taxes.)

County	1960	1959
Forest	.182	.182
Preserve	.005	.005
Town	.048	.055
Rd. & B.	.190	.208
Vil.Fkt.	.728	.783
Fire Dist.	.055	.000
HS 210	1,369	1,443
SD 157-C	.923	.965
	3,500	3,661

Thus one sees that the village rate is down almost six cents, the rate for Lincoln-Way high school is down a little over seven cents and the grade school rate had declined a little over four cents since 1959. The township is down seven mills and the road and bridge is down almost two cents. The rate for the newly organized fire protection district is 5 1/2 cents.

A resident of the village of Frankfort who had property valued at $4,000 would have a tax bill of $140 for 1960 as compared to $146.44 in 1959. The tax bill on a property of similar value in Mokena will carry a tax bill of $140.40 for 1960 as compared to $148.04 in 1959.

The rated for the county, forest preserve, town, road and bridge and the Lincoln-Way high school district remain constant in Frankfort township and the totals are arrived at thru other factors, such as:

SD, 159	1,204
Vil.Mok.	.453
Pk.Dist.	.059
Total rate $	3,510

(Last year the village rate was .489 and the park district tax was .031 cents)

Rates in the other school districts in the township other than those for the villages of Frankfort and Mokena, are:

56-C (Ann Rutledge), $1,208
154 Wietendorf,659
161 Summit Hill,1,014

So in that part of Frankfort township in Ann Rutledge school district, HS 210 and the Frankfort fire district, the total rate will be $3,057; in the same grade district but not in the fire district the rate is $3,002. In Wietendorf district, HS 210, Fkt. FD and Mokena Pk Dist, the rate will be $2,567 per $100 equalized assessed valuation. In the same school districts and park district but not in the fire district, $2,512; in the same school districts and fire districts but not in the park district, $2,508.

In Frankfort grade district, HS 210, Fkt. FD, $2,772; in same school districts and Mokena pk. dist. but not in fire dist., $2,717.

In Mokena grade district, HS 210, and Mokena Pk Dist., $3,057; in same school districts but outside park district, $2,998.

In Summit Hill district, HS 210 Fkt. Fire Dist., Mokena Pk. Dist., $2,922; in same school districts and park district but outside fire district, $2,867; in same school districts but outside park and fire districts, $2,808.

*The village tax rate for general corporate purposes is .33 cents for 1960 as compared to .322 cents in 1959; the figure used here of $1,003 for the village is made up of the .33 cent corporate rate plus .67 cents and three mills to produce $26,469.74 for the bond and interest account.

The tax bill under the 1960 rate on a property valued at $4,000 would be $157.68 as compared to $133.52 in 1959, it was stated.
